National Seminar on ‘Empowering Women Entrepreneurs in the Digital Age’

A National Seminar on ‘Empowering Women Entrepreneurs in the Digital Age’ was conducted by the Management Department in college on 23rd Feb. Dr. Sowmya Mishra, IPS, was the chief guest for the inaugural session. Sri Suresh Babu, President, VJ. Sri. Seshagiri Rao, GS, VJ, Sri. V. Rajasekhar, Vice President VJ & Chairman VJIAS, Sri. K. Durga Prasad, Vice-President, VJ, Sri. Achyutha Ram Prasad, Joint Secretary, VJ, Dr. D. N. Rao member VJ, Sri Y. J. Venkata Rao, member VJ, graced the inaugural session and gave messages befitting the theme.

Lighting the Lamp by dignitaries

The aim of the seminar was to bridge the gap between the industry and the academia by providing a platform for bringing together entrepreneurs, faculty, scholars and the students to discuss issues related to entrepreneurship. It also aimed to involve all the stakeholders to deliberate on ideas that can be adopted by entrepreneurs in the digital age.

Several Industrialists, academicians from various universities, faculty and students from different colleges participated and presented their points of view on the theme of the seminar.

Chief Guest Dr. Sowmya Mishra, IPS, Director General, Prisons and Correctional Services, Hyderabad, TS, addressed the gathering and spoke about how digitalization has opened up unprecedented opportunities for women to explore and sustain themselves in the digital world. Speaking on the boundless opportunities in the digital world, she said e-commerce platforms, creativity and content creation etc., are some of the areas in which women are actively involved.

Dr. Sowmya Mishra, IPS, the Chief Guest - Inaugural Session

She also touched upon the cyber security problems faced by the women entrepreneurs such as cyber bullying, online abuse, physical safety etc. She assured that the Police Department is doing a lot for the prevention of such crimes. Statistically 26% of the total population of women is not using the digital media and phones for fear of such crimes, but it is a loss if half of the population does not contribute to the economy of the country. This gap can be bridged by providing access to finance, building conducive environment, providing mentorships, tax concession etc., for women to evolve as entrepreneurs. This transformation of women to entrepreneurship has to be encouraged, supported and celebrated.

Messages by Guests of Honor

Dr. Suresh Babu, Director, Suresh Productions Pvt. Ltd., President, VJ, spoke on empowering women and on how the conservative mindset is evolving into a more progressive open-minded perspective. He encouraged the participants to explore their potential and become entrepreneurs. “If not now it’s never” was his message to all the women participants.

Sri. Er. J. Seshagiri Rao, MD, Keerthi industries Ltd. & General Secretary, VJ gave a very inspirational message to all the participants and wished them very best for their future endeavors.

Sri. V.Rajasekhar, MD, SEW Infrastructure Ltd., Vice President, VJ & Chairman VJIAS, acknowledged women in different fields especially the women involved in the mission to the moon, and inspired all the women participants.

Dr. D. N. Rao, member, VJ, graced the occasion and gave his message, befitting the theme of the seminar and congratulated the faculty for conducting such a seminar which is very much relevant today.

Dignitaries on the dais

The Director, Dr. Vijaya Prasad, seminar advisor, spoke about the importance of empowering women in the current scenario. Dr. N. Aruna Principal, seminar director gave the vignette of the college and the theme of the seminar and its importance in the present day world. Dr. T. VJIAS En route to Autonomy

Visualize a future where all colleges will evolve into “Autonomous Institutions” enhancing their capacity for innovation, self –governance and academic freedom. Obtaining autonomy is essential for promoting innovation, enhancing academic quality and fostering institutional excellence.

Autonomous colleges can design new courses with relevant course content to meet the evolving needs of students and industries. They can also experiment with teaching methodologies and research initiatives contributing to the societal development.

‘Autonomy’ fosters a culture of accountability and responsibility as institutions can assume greater ownership for their academic and administrative decisions. This empowerment enhances institutional efficiency and cultivates a sense of pride and identity within the colleges and motivates faculty and staff to strive for excellence.

India has 979 autonomous undergraduate colleges. They constitute just 2.1 percent of the country’s 45, 473 colleges which have passed the stringent criteria prescribed by the apex body, UGC, for conferment of ‘autonomous status’. To qualify for an autonomous status, the applicant college must have been in existence for more than ten years and should have been accredited by either NAAC or NBA, whichever is relevant, with minimum ‘A’ grade.

After conferment of autonomous status, the chosen colleges have the authority to confer degrees. Although the degrees are awarded by the affiliating state university, the name of the college is permitted to be inscribed on the degree certificate and they carry great weight with potential employers in the industry and higher educational institutions.

A total of 979 colleges were conferred autonomy by UGC as on June 12, 2023, and out of which, 786 colleges are in the private sector and the remaining 193 are government owned colleges.

We as a private institution have made continuous efforts to introduce contemporary and innovative study programs, apprenticeship based and value added courses to prepare our students for employment. We also offer coaching for civil services and other professional entrance examinations. Many of our students are recruited by local reputed companies such as Deloitte, Infosys, TCS and Tech Mahindra. Our campus is Wi-fi - enabled and innovative research initiatives are encouraged from faculty and students. These quality initiatives are a positive step forward towards achieving autonomy.

VJIAS has initiated steps to be an autonomous college.

Take a Chance

No matter what
Life throws at you
Be ready to catch it
Be ready to ride it
Becoz it's telling you
It's worth it, so
Take a chance
No matter what
Fate has in store for you
It may be a googly
It may be a bouncer
But you may still get to hit a sixer
Hence it's worth it to
Take a chance

No matter what
The stars have designed for you
It may be gain
It may be pain
They empower you to chart your own path
So, it's worth it to
Take a chance
No matter what
Your consciousness tells you
Do not cower,
Realize your power
To pursue your dreams that lead to happiness
Becoz it's worth it to
Take a chance.

DIGITAL DISTRACTIONS

In today's world, digital devices have become an integral part of our daily lives. Digital devices like smart phones, smart watches, laptops, and tablets have changed our way of communicating and accessing information. With the increasing dependence on these devices, there is digital distraction.

Digital distraction refers to the disturbance caused by digital devices in our day-to-day lives, resulting in minimum productivity and maximum waste of time. Mobile phone technology has become a major part of people's daily lives, especially among youth who use mobile technology for various purposes throughout the nights. The versatility of the technology allows seamless integration of work, entertainment, and social interaction and enhances the quality of life in many ways. Detaching from these devices is really a challenging task with their constant connectivity. We are all occupied with social media, emails, instant messaging apps, etc., which will divert our minds with a fear of missing out on something and try to update ourselves.

The use of digital devices can lead to neglecting goals and other important commitments and also decrease social activities with friends and family members. This type of attitude and behavior has a negative impact on our mental, physical, and emotional health.

It is inevitable to live with these devices in today's world, which provide us with a lot of information. Stepping back from a digital device can stir fear, triggering FOMO (fear of missing out) or FOBO (fear of being offline). However, it is important to understand how these digital devices hinder productivity, which may be negatively impacting our income and work. Maintaining a healthy balance between work and digital devices will maximize the efficiency and quality of work and also improve the mindset of critical thinking in everyone.

Overcoming digital distractions requires conscious effort, which can be achieved through setting boundaries, nurturing mindfulness, utilizing productivity tools, establishing distraction-free zones, and prioritizing deep work to regain control over attention and foster a balanced digital lifestyle.
