Oh my beautiful Mother With your exquisite form With the mighty Himalayas as your crown With the blue and placid waters Lapping at your sides and feet You are a sight to behold	Oh my inspiring Mother With gifts of ancient wisdom With the awesome force of spirituality With sacredness enrobed You have birthed many A great personality
Oh my loving Mother With your arms spread wide From West to East you stand With a welcoming smile With tenderness in your eyes That draws many to your bosom	Oh my glorious Mother With humility in greatness With modesty in erudition With strength in meekness You are an epitome of power A Guru to the world
Oh my benevolent Mother With your bountiful resources With riches past compare With spices fragrant You nurture all inhabitants And spread allure to nations	Oh my magnificent Mother With the aura of knowledge With the halo of peace With the calm of contentment You spread the message That pride is of no avail
Oh my heroic Mother With boldness defined With numerous battles faced With pain in shackles endured You still forgive and persist In spreading love and warmth	Oh my noble Mother With boundless charm With endless culture With ageless beauty I bow to you reverentially And pray: Glory be unto you Glory be unto you..... - Dr.T.Rama,Vice-Principal

Editorial

The reopening of schools and colleges on September 1st in our state after a long agonising wait of about eighteen months by all students and lecturers due to the pandemic is heartening and a good augury. Though corona cases in our state and as a whole in the country have come down drastically and the process of vaccination is improving, we have to be still cautious and take all precautions as suggested.

In the milieu of our institutional activity where students gathering is imminent, we have to be more careful. Wearing the mask all the times, maintaining physical distance and hand hygiene are a few of the requirements that we all should strictly follow. Besides, as the state government directed, every student must have at least one shot of the vaccine before attending the college.

All faculty and supporting staff of VJIAS are already vaccinated one shot. VJIAS has brought out a 'Restart Manual' focusing on all the measures to be taken to counter the pandemic effectively. The salient features are widely published to the stakeholders to follow scrupulously. All measures are taken at VJIAS such as faculty training and infrastructural arrangements (internet connectivity) etc., to meet the online requirements.

All the precautions are taken up for the prevention of covid-19 for the conduct of offline classes. Offline (face to face), Online and blended teaching – learning process is the current necessity. The novel Coronavirus pandemic has forced us to redefine all the working systems like the functioning of schools, colleges, jobs, shopping, entertainment etc. Online education is one such unavoidable aspect which will continue for sure.

One essential requirement without any choice is that all students must have a laptop or tablet or at least a smart phone to attend the online classes / assignments / webinars etc. Today you will carry your education in your hand.

Director
